

Ireland

On the „Green Isle“

All lights on green!

The „Emerald Isle“ offers good conditions for learning and living – also for exchange students.

Not only is the landscape (mostly) green here, but the traffic lights are also „green“ for modern school equipment, forward-looking technologies, interesting companies and professions.

A student exchange will take you to the Republic of Ireland.

You live in a place between Dublin in the east and Galway in the west, Cork in the south and Donegal in the north.

School

The Irish school offers one or two special features for German students: Even though the future has often arrived in terms of equipment, many schools also preserve the traditional traditions. For example, school uniforms are common.

A whole series of schools are also run by the Catholic Church; However, these are still public.

Accommodation

Your accommodation in Ireland will be with a host family. The Irish are traditionally considered to be very hospitable. The host family will be happy if you feel comfortable with them. You will be welcomed like a „temporary family member“, with rights and obligations.
